DETAILED ACTION

This Office Action is in response to the Amendment filed on March 5, 2004.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-17 are allowed.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: in re claim 1, the prior art references, alone or in combination, do not show a liquid crystal display device having a display part divided into two regions, wherein one region is displayed in a semi-transmission type or in a reflection type which enables display by reflecting light from an observation side of the liquid crystal display device and the other region is displayed in a transmission type. In re claims 3 and 8, the prior art references do not show a liquid crystal display or a mobile phone including a liquid crystal display device wherein a region which performs a display of small information quantity performs the display in a semi-transmission type or reflection type, and the region which performs a display of a large information quantity performs the display in a transmission type. In re claims 12 and 17, the prior art references do not show a liquid crystal display or a mobile having a liquid crystal display in that the display part is divided into a first display part which enables display in a semi-transmission type or reflection type and a second display part which enables display in a transmission type, wherein the second display part includes a black matrix formed so that the black matrix extends beyond a boundary between the first display part and the second display part.
